

Summary of teaching evaluations
Satyaki Chakravarty, updated Dec 2023

University	Role	Session	Course	Average score	N
Elon (out of 6)	Instructor	Fall 23	Principles of Econ	5.20	32
			(3 sections)	5.63	32
	Instructor	Summer 21	Econ & Bus. Stat	5.65	33
				4.13	91
UNCG (out of 5)	TA	Spring 21	Econ & Bus. Stat	4.13	32
			(4 sections)	4.26	30
		Fall 21	Econ & Bus. Stat	4.61	32
				4.04	30
		Spring 20	Econ & Bus. Stat	4.19	45
				4.29	30
	Principles of micro	4.07	31
	(4 sections)	4.27	28
			4.50	30

Randomly chosen excerpts from evaluations and student focus group discussion conducted by Elon faculty.

- Passionate about subject - students appreciate the passion you bring inot the classroom!
- He is very understanding and will do a lot to help us understand ( $\times 5$ ) - there was overwhelming agreement here- students recognize the effort you out into being available for them and appreciate the personalized help.
- Office hours and explanation of deadlines - Students really recognize and appreciate your enthusiasm for the material as well as your collective availability - they recognize that you care about their learning. Students appreciate your accessibility and appreciate the time and take into reaching out to students individually and how responsive you are to their questions and concerns on email.
- “Hands down one of the best professor that I have had the honor to be part of his class. No matter the time he always will reply and with a good explanation to the your question, more professor should be like him.”
- “The instructor for this course was well prepared and put effort into helping students during the class time. I appreciate the help he tried to give me and other students during this limited time.”
- “He is an excellent educator. He facilitated the class efficiently. He ensured we understood the material, and encouraged communication. Thank you.”
- “The instructor was very nice and accommodating, I needed to have survey and had an ER trip in the middle of my first exam weekend, he was so nice to stay in touch and make any changes needed to my testing times when I was home from the hospital. I felt very valued as a person.”